Terms and Conditions
In accordance with the Consumer Protection (Distance Selling) Regulations 2000: We endeavour to ship items within 5-10 days of receipt of your order, however occasionally it may take up to 30 days. Some items may come direct from members and so may arrive under separate cover.
If you want to add something or to cancel your order, please contact info@petbehaviourcentre.com. Customers are entitled to a seven working day cooling-off period during which orders can be cancelled without charge. All monies due will be returned within 30 days of the date cancellation is given. In the event of cancellation after the goods have been received (and during the cooling-off period) the items must be returned in 'saleable as new' condition, and the customer will be liable for postage charges. If items are not returned, we are entitled to deduct the cost of recovering the goods.
